Quality Guidelines:

ALL items must be cleaned, odor free (pet and smoke), not overly worn, free of rips, stains, and tears, no missing or broken parts, no major scratches, or chips. We sell items that operate properly and of stable construction.

There will be a quality inspection of your pieces upon arrival prior to final acceptance for consignment. We reserve the right to decline any items that do not meet our quality standards. Merchandise must be ready to be presented for resale. The better it looks, the better it sells!

Beginning the process of selling your merchandise is easy!

1. Send an email to warehouse@consideritdonein.com requesting a consignment selling packet.
2. Send photos of consignment items to warehouse@consideritdonein.com . If more than 10 items call our office 812-320-7537 to request an appointment.
3. CID will notify you of accepted consignment items. Arrangements will be made regarding pick-up or delivery of items to our warehouse.

Once you have submitted photographs of your items, please allow up to 4 business days for a response. If an item arrives damaged – even if it has been pre-approved – CID will reject it. Please do accurately disclose the condition of your furniture. It will help avoid any preapproval issues.

How did you hear about us?

We are pleased you have decided to become part of our consignment family. The consignment period is 90 days. CID's terms of consignment are as follows:

Initial each signifying, I have read the terms and I agree with them:

1. Initials: _____

CID consignment period is 90 days. CID is commission rate is based on total sales of all items sold on consignment.

$10 – $1,250 (50% client – 50% CID).

$1,251 - $2,000 (60% client – 40% CID).

$2,001 and above (70% client – 30% CID).

The proceeds from the sale of your consignments will be kept in an account in your name. Only you or those authorized by you in writing will have access to the proceeds of your account. When all items are sold or at the end of the period, you can come pick up a check or we can mail it to you. Office will let you know once check is ready.

First Thirty (30) minutes at job site is included in the cost. Any additional time will be billed separately at current hourly rate (min. of 15 minutes) per employee. Initials: _____

CID, along with its agents, employees, and volunteers, assume no liability for any loss, theft, or damage to merchandise, at any time, including during pick-up or delivery. CID does not provide insurance coverage for any merchandise and duly notifies consignor of the recommendation to obtain insurance coverage for said items. Customer further agrees to hold harmless CID, its agents, employees, and volunteers from any potential claim of reimbursement for any said theft, loss of, or damage to any merchandise. Initials: _____

3. Initials: _____

Your items will remain at the full selling price, but CID reserves the right to adjust the price up or down as market factors dictate. Items may be reduced subject to store promotions and coupons.

4. Initials: _____

Once accepted, all items must remain in the store and for sale for the 90-day consignment period. You cannot remove the items prior to the expiration of the 90-day consignment period, should you attempt to do so a 30% early removal fee (based on the original price of the item) will be charged. CID will do its best to market your items to sell. CID makes no representation that your items will be marketed online or that they will be featured in a specific location in the showroom. CID has the exclusive right to sell all items that have been accepted.

5. Initials: _____

If you wish to retrieve any unsold items at the end of your 90-day consignment period, you have 10 days to do so. You may retrieve your items anytime during those 10 days, but you MUST call the office, and schedule pick up of your items 24 hours (business days) before you intend to pick up. If you do not retrieve your items during the ten days, the items automatically become the property of CID who is authorized to dispose of the items as it wishes. Also, after 90-day consignment period ends CID may deem the items unsellable and will request you to pick up said items. If you do not retrieve your items within 10 days of CID calling you, the items automatically become the property of CID who is authorized to dispose of the items as it wishes.

6. Initials: _____

It is most difficult for CID to monitor the end of the consignment period (90 days) for each piece in its showroom. As such, we both will need to monitor the consignment period. Each party will do its best to reach out to one another after 30 days. All consigned items remain the legal property of the consignor until sold or expired and shall remain under the consignor's Homeowners or Renters insurance policy.

7. Initials: _____

Prior to pick-up or delivery to CID, items need to be cleaned and vacuumed completely.

8. Initials: _____

Fee $20(each item) for early withdrawal (within their first 90 days on consignment).

9. Initials: _____

CID will do its best to safeguard your items, but we are not responsible for damage or loss.

10. Initials: _____

You warrant that you are the owner of any item you placed for consignment, and that the item is free of liens or other claims and is sellable. Consignor warrants that he/she has complete title of all merchandise that is consigned and will not hold CID, its agents, employees, or volunteers responsible for any claim to merchandise. Consignor also agrees to indemnify and hold harmless CID, its agents, employees, volunteers, and any purchaser of merchandise, harmless from all claims or demands which may arise from any transaction authorized by this agreement including but not limited to the delivery to and sale by CID of the merchandise. The consignor agrees to pay all costs, including attorney's fees incurred by CID or any purchaser of merchandise which may arise because of any breach of the warranty of title made by consignor. Any extra work beyond the standard (per above) will be billed separately at current hourly rate (min. of 15 minutes) per employee. Examples of extra work include but are not limited to: Disassemble or Assemble of any item, moving any item to remove or place merchandise, not being available during pick up or delivery time range, multiple trips etc. CID, along with its agents, employees, and volunteers, assume no liability for any loss, theft, or damage to merchandise, at any time, including during pick-up or delivery. CID does not provide insurance coverage for any merchandise and duly notifies consignor of the recommendation to obtain insurance coverage for said items. Customer further agrees to hold harmless CID, its agents, employees, and volunteers from any potential claim of reimbursement for any said theft, loss of, or damage to any merchandise.

11. Initials: _____

CID reserves the right to refuse to sell or discontinue selling your items for any reason. If this occurs, you will be notified and given an opportunity (10 days) to retrieve your items. If you do not retrieve your items within 10 days of notification, your items become the property of CID who can dispose of them as it deems appropriate.

12. Initials: _____

ALL items must be cleaned, odor free (pet and smoke), not overly worn, free of rips stains and tears, no missing or broken parts, no major scratches, or chips. We sell items that operate properly and of stable construction. It is your obligation to disclose all damage and/or defects in your items. If you fail to do so, CID reserves the right to the reject the item at any time.

13. Initials: _____

CID bases pricing on market factors, supply, and demand. Consideration is given to the original retail price if known; however, the final item pricing is based on the current resale/market demand for the item as determined by CID. CID makes no representation that they conduct appraisals and CID has no expertise in conducting appraisals. If you would like to have your items appraised, you must do so before bringing the items to CID for consignment. CID has no responsibility to adjust or change the price of an item based on an appraisal conducted after bringing the items to CID or based on any appraisal conducted before bringing the item to CID if CID was not made aware in writing of the appraisal. CID pricing of an item is not bound by any appraised value. It is in your interest as well as the interest of CID to get the highest possible profit on the sale of your item.

14. Initials: _____

CID is committed to providing exceptional service to sell your items swiftly and at the most favorable price possible. We take pride in promptly addressing any concerns you may have and being forthright in our communication. We value your decision to entrust CID as your consigning partner and are dedicated to providing you with the highest level of service that our team can offer.
